

Campus squabble over the beauty of co-eds has led to a challenge to all prairie universities to a beauty festival by the University of Manitoba, where Fay Cleverling, 18, was chosen beauty queen at a dance recently.

The dispute began at the University of British Columbia, where students from Regina complained of the "conspicuous lack of beauty" on the campus. Indignant co-eds countered with the declaration they would meet any prairie university candidates in a beauty contest. Mary E. Good, above, 19, U. of Saskatchewan. Another beauty from the University of Saskatchewan is June Hagerman, 20, third-year arts student. Regina boys in B.C. who started dispute are not popular there now.

KILLER TO DONATE HIS EYES: Nathan Leopold, principal in a "thrill" murder that shocked the country 22 years ago, is one of a large number of convicts at Stateville penitentiary, Joliet, Ill., who have offered to donate their eyes after death to the Eye-Bank for Sight Restoration, Inc. Above, Dr. L.C. Harris, right, examines Leopold's cornea. In 1924, Leopold, now 41, was a brilliant 19-year-old Chicago college student when he and Richard Loeb, 18, having planned a "perfect murder", lured 14-year-old Bobby Franks into a car and viciously beat him to death for the excitement of it. They were quickly caught, tried, convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment.

SCIENTISTS TO EXPLORE ANTARCTIC: Antarctic voyage in a 300-ton wooden ship, the Trespass, is planned by 12 youthful British scientists who are outfitting their vessel in London. The Falkland Islands, at the tip of South America, will be the operational base for the explorers. They will carry out research work in these barren lands where much of the areas is still uncharted. From left to right are: Mate H.W. Stone, Cluny Peddle and G.W. Anstey, of St. John's, Newfoundland, in polar kit.

Skipper of the Trespass is Capt. Eugene Burden of Newfoundland. He is shown here aboard his vessel, on one funnel of which is displayed a map of Newfoundland. The captain expects the voyage to last two years.

OUTSTANDING CONCERT GROUP:—Concerts at secondary schools scattered throughout the province of Ontario are being enthusiastically attended by both parents and students. One of the most outstanding groups giving concerts is the Leslie Bell Choir of Toronto.

WHITHER? From a background of appropriately dramatic darkness, Hans Fritzsche, Nazi acquitted in war crimes trial, walks through gate of Nuremberg house in which he is living. Photo is first one made showing him at liberty after being freed from Allied custody.

YOUNGEST ARTIST to take part in the concerts is George Baxter, 13, cornetist.

Practicing before they start on the northern tour are Elsie Babich and Olga Pilszka, two youthful violinists.

SWORD SAFE: Fabulous coronation sword of the kings of Poland, "Scarbice," is held by Dr. J.A. Fiedoriewicz, Polish minister to Canada, who examined Polish art treasures stored in Bank of Montreal vaults in Ottawa. Worth only a few dollars as so much steel and brass, the sword, to Poles, is priceless, he said. Other Polish treasure is reported to have been spirited away from its hiding places.

"Liebesfreud," by Kreisler, played on the harmonica is a specialty number for Bernard Millons, one of the soloists taking part in the secondary school concerts.

TO BE TRIED: Field Marshal Albert von Kesselring, one of Germany's ablest tacticians, is reported transferred from Britain to Germany to stand trial for alleged war crimes committed in North Italy.

Brandon Will Meet Canadians, Capitals

Second interprovincial hockey tests involving Edmonton Juniors are scheduled for this coming week-end, with the visit here for a two-game series of the highly-rated Brandon Juniors.

The Juniors who shut out Saskatoon Legionnaires last week will play Canadians on Saturday night and will meet Capitals, Edmonton's other Junior club on Monday. Both games will commence at 8:30.

This series is sponsored by the Edmonton District Hockey Association and the proceeds, over and above the heavy expenses required, are to be used for the equipment of Junior hockey in the city.

Coach "Host" Hines is bringing along 15 players of the club which already is the experts choice as the class of the Manitoba Junior league, which also includes Winnipeg Monarchs and Rangers.

This will be the final year in Junior ranks for most of the team. Goals Ray McNeill, Joe Terrence and Jeff Burman are former Winnipeggers and were standouts in 1963-64.

WALTER HERSHBERGER, a day with his Lethbridge club, is a holdover from '63-64, and defenseman Carl Kaiser was with San Diego in the Pacific Coast senior league a year ago. Right-winger Bill Johnson spent part of last season with Edmonton Canadians.

Others on the team are Ray Terrence, Roger Goodman, and Al McCullum. Forward, Byron Walters, "Spud" Whitehead, "Fin" Campbell, and Harley Cottrell.

Doug Anderson And Bob Gray Net Two Each

Canadians marked up their first victory in the City Hockey League Tuesday night when they turned back the "scrappy" Capitals 3-1 in a penalty-filled contest at the arena.

After a fast and clean first period, when Canadians picked up a 1-1 tie, the game developed into a rough, slam-bang affair, touched off by a free-for-all early in the second hour. When referee Ed Smith and Bill Bunge finished the first period, the game was tied 1-1.

The FIGHT, chiefly involving Eddie Thomas, Norm Kirk, Mike O'Neill and Bob Manson, meant five-minute stretches in the penalty box for the latter three.

Defenceman Bob Gray, playing his first league game for the Canadians, and Doug Anderson led the attack. Anderson scored twice, and Gray scored once.

For East-West Junior Final

CALGARY TORNADES WANT HEFTY GUARANTEE POSTED

CALGARY, Nov. 13 (CP)—Calgary Tornados will not consider playing an east-west football final with Montreal club at the eastern city until a certified check for $6000 has been posted in Calgary to ensure covering expenses for the trip it was learned from Calgary Tornados officials here Tuesday.

OFFICIALS ALSO STATED they had yet to receive a formal invitation from an eastern club and the only thing they knew about the proposed junior final was through press wires.

Regina Tornados' challenge to play the western Canada champion Tornados is definitely off it was indicated by Watson Hook, president of the Calgary Junior League, after offering to play the Saskatchewan champions in Calgary Nov. 11. Tornados officials here Tuesday said they would not be connected with the game.

Maritimes Seeking Closer View of Cup
HALIFAX, Nov. 13 (CP)—There's a new sport movement in the Maritimes this year that is attempting to rectify an unhappy situation which has confronted hockey fans in these parts for more than a decade.

It is called the "Maritime Big Five Hockey League" and its chief aim is to overcome the unequal distribution of All-Can Cup laurels.

NOT SINCE 1935 when Halifax Wolverines won the coveted cup has a team from New Brunswick, Nova Scotia or Prince Edward Island shared through to the Canadian senior championship.

Now, however, the puck pastime appears to be getting back on something like its pre-war footing with possibly a few improvements.

The fans are virtually fighting to get into games, and with that in mind the men behind the scenes have hardly spared the expense in gathering talent.

ALL BUT ONE TEAM have learned heavily on imports, with the result that there are puck-chasers from many parts of Canada lining up with Moncton Hawks, Saint John Beavers, Truro Bearcats and Halifax Crescents.

The other aggregation - Halifax Crescents - must rely heavily on players gleaned from the Navy and Army stationed in and around Halifax. The service team is under a handicap because practically all the players are back in their civilian life.

THE TRUO TEAM has three Maritime players, including a top guard from Jack Grosbois of Stoneham, Man. while a hometown unit, the Truro Bearcats, left wing, Bill Kearney of Truro, Man. formerly with Kansas City Monarchs, is also back on the defence.

One Change for Flyers

Riley Mullin announced Tuesday night he was making only one change for the Lethbridge game in the Flyers lineup which operated successfully against Saskatoon Elks here last Saturday. Bill Pettigrew will be on defence in place of Blm Barker. "Pug" Young, Gordon Watt and Bob Souling are the other three of the roundabout guard.

Johnny Bell, injured in the Saskatoon game, will be back and likely will see action with Bing Meritt flanking him on the right and Don Stanley on the left. Stanley may also be used to pivot Stan Devine and Alex Thomas.

Ken McKelvie of course will be in front of the Edmonton net and the high scoring Kreidler line will operate as usual, with Alex Pringle (now not a bachelor) on right wing and Freddy Smith on left and Elmer attending to centre duties himself. Dave (Sweeney) Schirmer, whose Maple Leafs' line of late, is expected to see time in the team club that showed here in the opener.

Still Uses Five Man Shift
Latest release issued at Montreal by Ken McKelvie, now pro-coach of New York Rangers, shows that Frank Boucher, coach of New York Rangers is still high on his new five man shift. A fresh defence pair always goes along when a fresh forward line is tossed over the boards.

Boucher, of course, has three sets of defencemen to go along with his three forward lines, not being troubled by any manpower shortage this year. Rangers use this shift even while enjoying a seven-man advantage.

The theory behind the scheme is that having the same defence combinations and same forward lines usually playing together tends to a better co-ordinated effort, all understanding each other's play and thus being more effective.

Aussies Likely Rely On Bromwich, Pails

SYDNEY, Australia, Nov. 13 (AP)—Veteran John Bromwich and newcomer Dinny Pails have been paired for an interstate doubles tennis tournament Nov. 26 and 27.

and more and more it looks as if Australia will rely upon them in the tandem play for the Davis Cup against the United States next month.

The New South Wales championships clarified the singles berth to the form displayed by Bromwich and Pails in that they are the obvious choices for the 1964 team to represent Australia in the challenge round for the international trophy.

Michaelson's Koosong Cup was won by Bromwich and Pails in 1963.

This, Australia which has held the trophy since 1950, is the defense of the cup squarely upon a champion team.

Jack Crawford, another Australian internationalist and selector of the 1964 team, expressed surprise in his defence of the cup, said as recently as September that Bromwich and Adrian Panell, another veteran, made up the best doubles team in the world.

But that combination went down to defeat in the recent New South Wales meet, beaten to a loss by Brodie and Colin Long, who in turn lost to Pails and Geoffrey Brown in the finals 4-6, 7-5, 6-3, 6-4.

Canadians Think Food Effort Is All That Can Be Expected

By Canadian Institute of Public Opinion

TORONTO (AP)—Alberta's Hon. P. J. Martin, Canadian delegate to the United Nations general assembly, last week called for increased international efforts to meet the world's food needs, mostly two out of every three Canadians have the comfortable belief that Canada is doing all she can along this line.

Whether or not this is based on a false sense of adequacy, the fact is that the majority of Canadians answered "Canada is doing all she can" to this Gallup Poll question, asked in the last week from coast to coast.

"Do you think Canada is doing all she can to help those countries in need of food? or do you think we could do more?"

Doing all she can 67%
Could do more 33%
Unsure 0%

People's attitudes towards the question of Canada's food efforts vary quite sharply from province to province. For example, in the Prairies, where produce is a large share of Canada's food exports, a strong minority over a quarter of the population feel more could be done. In Quebec, on the other hand, an equally large minority feel that Canada is already doing too much.

This conflict of opinion shows up in the next table, which compares the attitude of those two areas of Quebec:

Quebec
All she can 51%
Doing too much 49%
Unsure 0%

It will be seen from the above that the figures for "could do more" and "doing too much" are virtually reversed in these two areas. Attitudes in western Canada is still the more interesting, in the light of the fact, as quoted by Mr. Martin at Lake Success, that over the past three years, Canada's grain exports have been at a rate which is 100 per cent higher than year above normal exports, and that,

At the end of the current crop year, Canada had only the barest grain reserves left.

The 17 percent in the national Gallup poll who thought Canada could do more, were asked, "What further steps should be undertaken?"

More rationing 41%
More production (better land, machinery, etc.) 33%
More and distribution 22%
Better organization 15%

Mrs. Smith, of Vancouver, was charged with death with a weapon.

Japs Welcomed In Canadian Jobs

By R. H. Hardy

OTTAWA (AP)—Officials of the department of labor report 10 times as many Japanese as there are in Canada could get jobs in homes, logging camps, on farms and in Canadian industries.

This means, in effect, Canada's so-called "Japanese problem" is in a fair way of solving itself. A full review of the Japanese situation in the past two years is presented to the commons by Labor Minister Mitchell early in the new year.

Little Antagonism Left

The report will say:
1. Anti-Japanese feeling continues in only a few isolated spots.
2. What has been described as "the wartime hysteria" has been completely dispelled.
3. Canadian farmers, industrial employers, housewives, logging operators etc., are satisfied with the Japanese as employees and that the department could place ten times the existing number of Japanese.

It is believed by the time this report is presented the party would have delivered its ruling on the appeal from the judgment of the supreme court which would permit deportation of all 10,000 Japanese who signed declarations asking to be repatriated, with the exception

Won't Prejudice Trade Preference

LONDON, (CP)—Prime Minister Attlee told the commons Tuesday

on the debate on the three speech that there is no question of any unilateral surrender of trade preference agreements.

Mr. Attlee was replying to Opposition Leader Winston Churchill's demand for assurance that Anglo-American financial agreements have British free of commercial prejudice to imperial trade preference.

Mr. Attlee said he regretted Mr. Churchill's remarks about British policy in Palestine and insisted "there has been no wobble in the matter."

"We are bound by the mandate to have regard both for the position of the Arabs and the Jews," the prime minister said. "We have been striving carefully for the co-operation of the United States in this matter."

Replying to criticisms of the government's domestic record, Mr. Attlee claimed the mass of the British people now are better fed than in the days of peace under the Conservative government.

Continuing his condemnation as proposed in the throne speech would involve a period of service of 1½ years after which men would be allowed to return to their jobs.

Plan Make Poles Good Canadians

By R. H. Hardy

OTTAWA (AP)—Plans have been completed for the handling in Canada of the Polish soldiers who are coming to take over jobs on Canadian farms. Most of these coming are the so-called "London Poles" who fought with the Canadians in Italy and who do not wish to return to their homeland.

The first 1,500 arrived in Halifax Tuesday, and 300 will reach Lethbridge Monday for Alberta farms.

There is what might be called a five-point plan for handling them:

1. Teach them English.
2. Offer education facilities.
3. Provide entertainment.
4. Encourage them to mix with Canadians.
5. Go slow in forming Polish co-ops.

These Poles are going to eight provinces, mainly as agricultural workers. So far Prince Edward Island has asked for any.

Learn English first.

The first thing, authorities here say, is to make sure these people learn English.

"We want them made into Canadians in the quickest possible time," one official pointed out.

Then if entertainment facilities are offered these men are not so long to brood or espouse unrealistic claims to company with other Poles.

Some propaganda has been issued in the past, and it is the intention of an army to fight the Huns in a couple of years, and therefore this is the only place for the army to wait in the meantime.

The Canadian government insists to know that farmers who are asked to take the Poles are coming here to help them.

Black Negregation

In the past authorities say it has been found that among Christians of foreign birth much of the trouble comes when, not understanding English, and having no place to go, they crowd into Polish halls, and Polish societies, such societies are considered all right if the Poles have been in Canada some time and have acquired a social education.

"But we don't want these new-comers, because our Polish friends are not official. We want them to become Canadians and to know all the things that are in the air."

Blame Movie Strike In Hollywood Blast

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—An explosion which left eight wounded and caused by a hand grenade thrown in a cinema and destroyed the home of a movie-making technician Tuesday in another violent outbreak attributed to the movie strike.

Mr. Galt was hurt in the blast. Other developments in the nearly two-month-old jurisdictional strike included the first production shutdown and destruction of movie equipment and materials at a studio.

Sure... It's no trick if you know how

First, remove the lobster from the pot, make sure it's up to our high, Canadian standards, and put its price in the fisherman's pocket.

Next, cook and can that lobster and all the rest of the day's catch. Pay the cannery employees, and while you're at it don't forget wages and profits for the manufacturers, steel workers, tin importers, miners and railwaymen who produced and delivered the cans. Or the papermakers and printers who turned out the label.

Now ship the canned lobster abroad, helping on the way to meet payrolls of the dock workers, seamen and half a dozen other trades. Sell it in one of the tea-growing countries where Canadian lobster rates tops.

Buy tea with the money you get for the lobster. Bring the tea home and sell it to a wholesaler, who will see that it reaches the grocer's shelves. Maybe it will be the same grocer who sells tea to the fisherman, the cannery worker or the miner.

That doesn't really matter. Tea-money came out of a Canadian lobster-pot, and paid Canadian wages all along the line.

That's the export business, and the import business too. We're all in them one way or another, and together they spell Canada's well-being. In fact—at least 35 cents of every $1 you get comes from Canada's trade abroad.

What you can do to help your Prosperity

1. Even if you have to wait a while for merchandise you want, by sharing with other nations now you are helping to fill your own pay envelope... and also insuring your own job or business for the future years. So be patient and wise, and help Canada take care of her customers across the sea.
2. If you help to make or produce any kind of merchandise, put your best into the work. Then Canadian goods will be asked for, and preferred, in other countries. Your sincerity will pay off in better jobs and higher wages.

* Note to those Maritimers who now call it a trap: we may have taken a little liberty with terms to make this message possible.

35 cents of every $1.00 you get comes from Canada's Trade Abroad

Canadians Reach 'Big Time' As Radio Stars for B. B. C.

Dr Frank Newman
LONDON—The Canadian man of speech, which Britons came to know so well during the war years, is still to be heard regularly in the majority of homes in Britain today. The explanation: several top-flight broadcasters for the B.B.C. are ex-Canadian who have "made good" in the radio world here.

The Canadian colony in the B.B.C. represents most parts of Canada and at the same time, is one of the best-talented groups of broadcasters based on the British air. The names of some are familiar in Canada but are household words in this country.

The dean of all B.B.C. Canadian broadcasters, partly as well known in the colonies as he is here, is 40-year-old Sandy MacPherson, who was born in Paris, Ont., and later lived in Dundas, Ont., now the chief theatre organist for the B.B.C. He is one of the best-known personalities on the British air and holds the all-time B.B.C. record for the highest number of broadcasts in one week. This happened once during the war when he made 22 separate broadcasts in seven days.

Heavy Pan Mail
MacPherson, who played the organ at Lewis' theatre in Hamilton in 1921, got more than 5,000 letters a week during the war, was awarded the most popular broadcaster during the war years. Now he is in charge of all B.B.C. radio broadcasts, and isn't heard as frequently himself as he was during the war.

Another well-known broadcaster is a former Vancouverite, Stewart MacPherson, (no relation to Sandy) one of the B.B.C.'s best-known and most popular voices. He came to Britain in 1941 to join the B.B.C. His voice has been heard in many major spots during the war as well as numerous "special" events.

Prime assignment for announcer MacPherson recently was to accompany the "Immigrant" Queen Elizabeth on her maiden voyage to New York. His comments on the trip to B.B.C. were followed by most of the B.B.C.'s 10,000,000 paid-up license holders.

Another voice familiar to Canadians is a big hit on the British air, as well as on the musical circuit, where his show is one of the highest paid and most sought after in its business.

Campbell, member of the Canadian army in the First Great War, made his first appearance before an English microphone in 1934 when he was master-of-ceremonies on a variety program in the early days of broadcasting from the St. George's Hall studios.

Announcer Harry Wilson, formerly of Vancouver, well-known in the colonies, was in the war almost as well known to listeners here as a result of his own daily-night "live" program, a recorded program of popular music named "Jazz in the Night." His broadcasts drew millions of listeners.

Masted in Dramas
One of the B.B.C.'s best-known voices who helped to fame during the war with his war commentaries and his broadcasts from the Ambrose battlefield during the whole of the action here is Toronto-born Stanley Masted, whose singing voice used to be familiar to C.B.C. listeners before he was sent to the B.B.C. in 1941 as a producer for the North American service.

He has been in the few weeks ago which brought fresh acclaim to his own act of acting as an actor.

Nab 3 at Coast In Narcotics Ring

VANCOUVER. (CPI)—R.C.M.P. narcotic squad officers Monday disclosed the arrest here of two men and a woman on charges of possession of narcotics and said the three may be involved in a drug ring operating in three countries.

Police here disclosed the arrests shortly after a dispatch from Phoenix, Ariz., told of the arrest there by U.S. federal agents and R.C.M.P. of Roy D. Linnell, 45, on a narcotic charge following investigation in Canada, the United States and Mexico.

Three arrested here were Louis Rossi, 41, Herman E. Elliott, 44, Vancouver broker, and Donnie Elliott, 25. Police said Rossi had previously been deported from the United States. He has been released on bail of $10,000.

Charles Joe Downey of the R.C.M.P., who is in Phoenix working with American agents in the investigation which has been carried on since December, 1945.

R.C.M.P. officers said the three arrested here, after facing the charges of drug possession, may also face conspiracy charges or be extradited to the United States in connection with the case against Linnell.

Dismiss Appeal Timber Workers

OTTAWA. (CPI)—Appeal of union timber workers in the Queen Charlotte Islands from a decision of the B.C. regional War Labor board dismissing their application for a 10-cent-per-hour wage increase has been rejected by the National War Labor board, it was announced Tuesday.

The application covered all employees of the J. R. Morgan Logging Company, the Pacific Mills Ltd., and the Kelly Logging Company. It was brought by the International Woodworkers of America, local 171, and was supported to the extent of five cents an hour by the company.

However, the national board threw out the whole application, supporting a decision of the regional board of a previous appeal involving the Pacific Mills employees, which was dismissed in November.

In dismissing an appeal at that time, the national board said that the union's application in effect asking the board to establish a differential in favor of workers in the Queen Charlotte Islands was not a valid one.

Urge Businessmen Hold Price Line

NEW YORK. (AP)—American businessmen are urged to hold the price line at home and at the same time keep an eye on Russia, whose "attack on our system is a vicious one."

Commerce Secretary W. Averell Harriman, addressing the opening of the 1946 convention of the National Association of Manufacturers, urged businessmen to hold the price line at home and at the same time keep an eye on Russia, whose "attack on our system is a vicious one."

Asking for bi-partisan support, he stressed "the vital necessity of keeping our foreign economic policies out of domestic politics."

Allen W. Dulles, New York lawyer and president of the Council on Foreign Relations, Inc., said Foreign Minister Molotov's recent speech at Lake Success was a "rigorous attack" on the American system.

Mr. Dulles charged that Russia, "most interested in expanding its own political and economic system in Europe," seems to be blocking the continuation of peace. "Bolshevik tactics in Europe, he added, 'operate to prevent American business on a free basis from competing with the government-controlled economy of Russia.'"

Charles E. Calver, chairman of Electric Bond and Share Company, warned against the United States "routing money" to Russia, which he said "deliberately misunderstands our motives" and said the preservation "of our free, private-enterprise system must be our main concern."

Dorothy Dix Says—

Dear Miss Dix: My wife's favorite indoor sport is telling me that other men, generally married men, who are my friends and business associates, make love to her. It seems to me that if a married woman likes herself open to such attention, it is her own conduct that invites it, and she should settle it herself without dragging her husband into it. My wife is 30 years old and we have four children—yet I have to listen to these tales about her she is pursued by wolves even though she professes to love me.

A DISCOURAGED HUSBAND

ANSWER: It is easy enough to understand your wife's little game. She is one of those hen-haired women who think that the way to hold a husband is to keep him green-eyed with jealousy. She believes that she keeps you on tenterhooks for fear you may lose her, and she hasn't the gumption to acknowledge it is making you who you could.

EVIDENTLY you are quite aware that your wife's little romances are entirely imaginary. But all the same, it is boring to have to listen to her. So why don't you shut her up by telling her she has your full permission to exercise her fatal powers of fascination on every man she meets, but for heaven's sake refrain from telling you about it, because it makes you so tired and interferes with your serious reading?

Dear Miss Dix: I am a middle-aged man, married for a long time, and there is one thing that I have found that is a perpetual puzzle to me, and that is that the more a woman is and the lower she sinks in her own estimation, the more she is loved by the men. I have asked the children whose mother was a drunkard why they love their mothers so much, and they replied that they loved their mothers because they were the more she needed them.

FRIDAY

ANSWER: Your experience does not tally with the report of the social service workers who tell us that the thing that attracts children's morose more than anything else is to be in the company of their mothers. They say that when a woman leads an immoral life or is a drunkard, or a thief, it is almost impossible to raise her children to a high level. They seem to get all hold on the morality and to sink into the pit of which their unworthy mother is wallowing.

IN THE CASES YOU CITE

in which the children stand by their mother no matter what she does, it is dragging or pushing, or she is along by sheer determination. Then too, the effect of excessive indulgence on the female figure is so gratifying that once a woman sinks into a routine for long a desire for improvement in figure she usually has to continue. There is no doubt about it. Exercise smoothes the figure out into attractive lines, nothing else can.

The following exercise gives a good tone up. Stand with the toes pointing straight forward. Place the hands on the hips. Keep the knees straight as you bend the trunk forward. Important. Keep the back

THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW

by FAGALY AND SHORTEN

Why Grow Old?

Just a very few minutes daily spent in the type of exercise actress Jane Barker shows you above will be enough to give you added vitality.

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
Setting up exercises taken at home regularly, are extremely valuable because they take so little time and can be fitted to the individual woman or man. However, many people pass up the daily toning up because they find exercise so dull.

I THINK ONE REASON for this is the fact that most people think of daily exercises in terms of a half-hour or an hour's time. Actually, great benefit can be obtained from a five minute or ten minute period if it is regular. The Life Extension Institute recommends only a few minutes.

When a woman finds exercise boring she should do it anyway for a month or so because she will experience a new feeling of aliveness and vitality of limberness and elasticity. Her body will seem to move of its own accord whereas she once had the feeling of dragging or pushing it along by sheer determination.

Then too, the effect of excessive indulgence on the female figure is so gratifying that once a woman sinks into a routine for long a desire for improvement in figure she usually has to continue. There is no doubt about it. Exercise smoothes the figure out into attractive lines, nothing else can.

The following exercise gives a good tone up. Stand with the toes pointing straight forward. Place the hands on the hips. Keep the knees straight as you bend the trunk forward. Important. Keep the back
